19 Bodies Recovered From Mine at Nordegg; Further 13 Men Are Believed Dead

and W. J. Heely, Calgary, district mines inspector, went into the mine to make an inspection. They found that apart from a few caves the mine was not seriously damaged by the explosion.

Thirty Others Withdrawn To Safety

Thirty men working in other sections of the mine were withdrawn to safety as soon as it was found something serious had happened in the fourth level.

Rescue squads, trained by Hugh Williams, have given valuable assistance in recovering the bodies.

A. W. Millar, Edmonton, chief inspector of mines for Alberta and A. B. Hunter, assistant chief inspector, arrived in Nordegg late Friday and on Saturday were conducting investigations into the circumstances of the accident. They spent some time in the mine with J. Crawford, Edmonton district mines inspector.

Immediately after the explosion, work in the mine was suspended. Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, who had been in Red Deer conducting another inquest, immediately rushed to Nordegg and will open an inquest to-day.

Dr. Braithwaite will empanel a jury of three miners from another mine (probably the Alberta mine) and three Nordegg citizens who are not miners.

ADJOURN INQUEST
The jury men will identify the bodies after which they will be released for burial and the inquest will then be adjourned, probably for ten days.

A court of inquiry to be convened by the provincial mines branch will not sit for possibly two or three weeks. Meanwhile the No. 3 mine will be shut down.

No. 3 mine, of the Brazeau Collieries had been shut down for many years, due to the depression. It was opened only six months ago owing to a heavy demand for fueling war orders.

Mr. Millar, the chief mines inspector, issued the following statement Saturday morning:

"Rescue work has been carried on to the mine all through the night but there is not the faintest chance that any of the men still left in the shaft are alive. From what I have heard the original detonating cause could have been a 'hot' wire, which set off an electric detonator used to detonate a charge to blast coal down from the face."

RESCUE CREWS
Headed by rescue crews especially trained for the work, miners assisted Friday in removal of the bodies of the victims and the local theatre was used as a temporary morgue. Dr. R. L. Rudin, military physician, was present when the bodies were brought to the surface and certified death in each case but was unable to make his way out of the mine.

Among the men killed were some of the oldest miners in the industry. — a man's service here dating from 1917. Many men with families and in some cases two men from the same family were killed. One young Nordegg woman lost both her husband and her father. Three of the men were new, having come recently from Hilson.

There were four drivers, two track-layers, four timber-men and the rest miners.

The section in which the explosion occurred was a working shaft on a 45-degree slope into the side of the mountain, about a mile from the mine entrance.

John McDonald, who was "bell-rapping" or directing the small cars into the different sections of the mine, and who probably gave the first alarm following the explosion, told the Bulletin his version of the accident.

FELT EXPLOSION
"I was bell rapping, which is a sort of traffic cop job," he said, "and I had just taken some cars into the south left level. I was about 100 feet into the level when I heard and felt the explosion."

"It lifted off the floor of the mine and carried me about 150 feet. The force of the explosion not only carried me this distance, it set me down slowly and gently."

"When I landed, I immediately lay face down with my face to the water as I was afraid of 'damp.' This is a wet mine and there is water running along the walls. Then I got up and was about 200 feet to the phone. I phoned the bell room and told them there had been an explosion. That's what I did at the mine."

Side Glances By Galbraith

"It's from the foundry, Tom! They don't care if you are getting old—they say you are a killed man and they want you to come back to work!"

Saturday the body of her husband lay, with her father, in that same hall which was to have been the scene of so much grief a few hours later.

Gojda left for the morning shift at 8 a.m.

RUSHED TO MINE
Mrs. Gojda received word of the explosion about 15 minutes after it occurred. Pilled with dread forebodings she jumped in the Gojda car and sped for the mine.

There she stood with other relatives of the entombed miners hoping against hope.

Rescue workers carried out one inert form after another.

Finally Mrs. Gojda gave a little cry. She had recognized one of the bodies as that of her father by the strain the mine was wearing.

Unable to bear longer the terrible strain, she left the mine and was not there when the body of her husband was later carried out.

Little Johnny Gojda, son of the bereaved miner, was told that his daddy and granddaddy are dead.

A year ago when an uncle died, little Johnny took it so hard that relatives were afraid of the results if they told him the news this time.

He has been told his father and granddaddy have gone to Red Deer and may not be back for a year. He was heard to tell some one:

"My daddy is only sick."

Walton Jones, tracklayer in No. 3 mine, said Saturday:

"My partner and I are the luckiest pair alive in the world today. The two were lying track at the entrance to the left level where the explosion occurred. A driver passing Jones abraded at the two men, but they did not catch what he said. The driver passed on and a minute later the blast occurred. The driver was killed."

Jones, facing into the shaft, was knocked backward by the explosion and landed on his face 10 paces away from where he was standing. His partner, standing edgewise, was not knocked over. The two picked themselves up and ran to the entrance of the mine, where they met the superintendent and told him "The mine has blown up!"

PROB OF DISASTER WILL AWAIT REPORTS
Government action of the disaster that broke the Brazeau Collieries at Nordegg on Friday will be delayed pending receipt of reports from governmental officials now at the scene conducting investigations, according to Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of labor and industry.

Hon. N. E. Turner, minister of lands and mines, is in the southern part of the province and will return here over the week-end.

A. A. Millar, chief mines inspector, and other officials of his branch and Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, are at Nordegg and pending conclusion of investigations and submission of reports there will be no government action.

Anxiety over the safety of Robert Leitch, 39, Nordegg miner, who formerly lived in Edmonton, was relieved late Friday when his parents received a telephone call from the mine. Leitch, stating that he had not been involved in the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Leitch, father and mother of the miner, and a brother, J. G. Leitch, live at 9445 82 street.

Another brother, Joseph Leitch, lives at 1212 10th street.

Robert Leitch has lived at Nordegg since 1924 and until recently was engaged in a strike hotel. He has returned to his original occupation as miner.

A family reunion had been planned by the Leitches here this week-end and Robert was coming home for it.

Serbs Prove Most Unruly Of Conquered Peoples For German Occupying Forces

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—(AP)—At least 1,082 persons have been executed for refusal to bow to Nazi authority in countries directly within the German sphere of influence since Germany's war with Russia began June 22, a compilation of reports made public admitted today.

In addition, references have been made in the press at various times to "several" or "a number" of persons who had been led before a firing squad or to the gallows. In many cases the press failed to follow up an original announcement a death sentence had been handed down by a court martial, thus leaving in doubt whether those sentenced had been killed or later pardoned.

158 CREWS EXECUTED
Orders of Reinhard Heydrich, Reich's protector of Bohemia-Moravia, have sent at least 158 Czechs to death, mostly on charges of economic sabotage in what were termed widespread plots. Heydrich accused groups of Czechs of trying to wreck distribution of food and blame it on Germany.

158 IN FRANCE
Since the drive against Communists began, a total of 158 French sudden deaths at the hands of German executioners in France, published reports show, but France is far down the list in total killed.

The most unruly peoples under the German sway, judging by the number of known executions, are the tough mountain folk of Serbia, who paid for non-cooperation with 345 lives.

For an attack on two German soldiers alone, 200 Serbs were reported killed in reprisal.

Close on the heels of the Serbs come the Croats. A total of 254 are said to have made the one way trip to the execution square, mostly on charges of being Communists.

Among the reasons given were treason, sabotage, possession of weapons, being a Communist, slapping a German soldier, attacking a policeman, possessing explosives, attempting to flee to the enemy side and siding the enemy.

Eighteen plots, 30 Belgians, 15 Poles, 14 citizens of Germany, four sailors, 48 Estonians and 12 Greeks have been reported executed since June 22.

Tax Collections Climb; Utilities Revenues Up, As Progress Maintained

Telephone and Electric Light Installations are Boosted, More People Travel on Street Cars; Population Up

Report Declares Figures Show More Persons Employed; Bank Overdraft is Reduced; More Building Permits

EDMONTON, Alberta,

October 31, 1941.

TO: THE ALDERMEN AND CITIZENS OF THE CITY OF EDMONTON.

The following are among the highlights to be recorded covering the operations of the current year.

Tax Collections for the nine months ended 30th September have increased by $167,601.77, and will probably constitute an all-time record.

The Bank overdraft has thereby been further reduced by over $225,000.00.

Sales of Tax Sale Lands and Properties for the same period were $182,534.05, as compared with $148,978.28 at the same date in 1940.

Building permits to 30th Sept. were $2,258,128.00. For the same period in 1940 the permits totalled $1,900,480.00. Included in the 1940 figures were 364 dwellings, and this year the number is 456.

Bank Clearings to date this year have increased by $34,436.255.

The gross revenues of the Utilities to 30th September were $3,717,687.70, an increase of $322,021.12 or 9.5% over the same period last year.

The number of telephones installed has increased from 19,451 to 20,763.

Electric light connections are now 25,299, as compared with 24,549 at this date last year.

Street Railway passengers have increased from 11,549,562 to 12,226,362.

Power output sold has increased from 52,873,900 K.W.H. to 55,540,000 K.W.H.

The population has increased from 91,723 to 93,924.

The value of the City's assessment has increased by $1,400,000, the second substantial increase in two years.

An agreement was concluded between the City and the department of Defence, under which a Manning Pool has been established at the Exhibition Grounds.

An Initial Training School was also established at the Normal School and the University.

The progress recorded in last year's report has been maintained, or improved upon, in practically all departments of civic affairs.

The steady increase in the population of the City is reflected in increased revenues from all sources, which, if continued, will shortly eliminate entirely the bank overdraft, which has been a heavy drain upon the city's resources for so many years.

With the removal of that expenditure, the major problem remaining is the reduction in the excessive General Funded Debt, which is quite as unfavourable as the bank overdraft is favourable.

During the past few years, some progress has been made in this direction, by the purchase of Edmonton debentures on the open market at a substantial discount, but with the improvement in the City's financial position, and the bond market generally, prices are now practically at par, and little help can be expected from this source in the future.

While the population has increased by 2.4%, the Utilities' gross revenue shows a gain of 9.5%. The difference of 7% can be attributed to three main factors:

1. More persons employed and able to make fuller use of the various services.
2. Workshops and factories more fully employed, plus additions to existing facilities.
3. Use by the various industrial establishments.

The reduction in the bank overdraft is reflected in the saving on bank charges. These costs in:

1937	$106,102.00
1938	137,000.00
1939	67,000.00
1940	62,500.00
1941 (Estimated)	55,000.00

a reduction of practically 50% in the interval.

Civic Financing

Until the advent of the Refinancing Plan as from 1st February, 1937, practically all capital construction was financed from Debentures sold on the open market, which had the effect of adding to the budget each succeeding year thereafter until maturity, and the present year is no exception.

Extraordinarily high debenture rates obtaining in this City (several times higher than any other Western Canadian city). One of the features of this plan was the raising of a sale of $2,700,000 for necessary immediate construction and rehabilitation of the Utilities, to be derived from the sale of securities in the Sinking Fund (which fund was no longer required for its original purpose, as the redemption of the debt, under the plan, was by means of annual levies in the tax rate for the purchase of outstanding debentures, either on the open market or at a discount, or by drawings should the debenture be at a discount, or by drawings should the debenture be at a premium).

Of the aforementioned sum of $2,700,000, has been expended to date $2,167,870.69 for the following purposes:

Utilities	$1,602,000.00
Local Improvements (Property Share)	285,870.69
General Debt	277,000.00
Balance	$2,167,870.69
	$32,021.31

Approximately $250,000 of this loan has already been repaid to the Sinking Fund Board, to be used in conjunction with all the remaining securities in the Fund for the redemption of outstanding General Funded Debt. The balance of $532,129.31 remaining is not immediately available in its entirety, as it is dependent upon the liquidation of the remaining securities in the Sinking Fund, many of which are presently frozen, but such as are saleable, or near par, have been earmarked for Utility or Local Improvement purposes (both of which are self-supporting) leaving nothing for General Debt purposes, and the balance of the loan, at present under construction, at a cost of $75,000.00, have to be financed from the tax rate. This is the first time that the city has had to resort to the use of improvements and extensions is an annual event, and the city is that it was not adopted many years ago, as the result would have been that the tax rate today would be much less than it is for two reasons, first, that many of the improvements would not have been undertaken, and second, that the debenture debt would be less by probably some millions, and the annual debt charges would probably be reduced to the point where it is not a business practice to raise money to capitalize something which is of a recurring nature, as the result is the pyramiding of annual charges, and for this reason more cities each year are adopting, to varying extent, the pay-as-you-go principle, which certainly pays good dividends in the avoidance of fixed overhead, in that pay for the past several years, 2½ to 3 mills have been included in the current budget for this purpose. While this has been done, however, because of the fact that there has been no other source from which funds could have been obtained, yet nevertheless it is a good policy, and the results have been nothing but beneficial, as is evidenced by the much needed improvements which have been effected in the way of street improvements, beautification projects, bridge rehabilitation, sewers, etc. The City is still confronted with the urgent necessity of providing several large sewer projects, and the replacing of several bridges, but these will have to be undertaken gradually, as it is impossible and inexpedient to borrow money for this purpose, and they will have to be provided for out of future current resources. As circumstances permit, the City will emphasize, or re-iterated, too often, that this City is over-capitalized to several times the normal extent, through various circumstances which have occurred in the past thirty years, and it is not within reason to expect that the City will be achieved for many years, and that only through the exercise of extreme caution in contracting any further obligations, or better still, in avoiding them altogether by undertaking only such work each year as can be charged to the current budget. By adhering to the practice of the past several years this can be accomplished.

Tax Collections

The following is the best barometer of civic progress is the matter of collection of taxes, because over a period of years it must reflect business and working conditions. Accepting that index, the figures of tax collections tend to show that the City is doing better than it was in 1940. During the period, cumulative, and the returns for 1941, for the nine months period, reveal that the swing of the pendulum is still towards the better side. For the nine months period this year tax collections amounted to $1,445,168.31, an increase of $167,601.77 over the same period last year. The total collections last year were 115.54% of the levy, so it would appear, unless some other factor is at work, that the City is doing better than it was in 1940. During the period, December, that the 1941 tax collections will easily surpass the previous best in the city's history. The collections during the present year are directly opposite to what occurred in 1940. In the year of 1940-1941, during that period, current tax collections fell to a low of 44% (in 1916) and the City was obliged to borrow millions of dollars on short term notes, and the City's operating activities. Subsequent collections of arrears of taxes and loans and pledges as collateral failed to liquidate these loans and in 1925-1926, over $6,000,000 had to be capitalized on approximately 12.5% interest, which was a heavy burden, outstanding, and form part of the City's present General Funded Debt of $19,696,000.

Tax Sale Lands

There has been a large movement in real estate, greater even than in the past, and the City's record. Up until 30th September, lands and buildings to the value of $212,344.05 have been disposed of, as compared with $176,000.00 for the same period last year. As a result of these sales, there has been a reduction in the active tax roll assessment to the value of $298,385.00 which will become revenue bearing in 1942. The City has still more than 50,000 acres of land, which should appreciate in value from year to year as the City grows. These stand in the books of the City at a gross value of more than $7,000,000.00. The value of these sales is that they automatically reduce the bank overdraft, which has been a heavy drain upon the city's resources for so many years. With the removal of that expenditure, the major problem remaining is the reduction in the excessive General Funded Debt, which is quite as unfavourable as the bank overdraft is favourable.

Unemployment Relief

Due to war activities and the improvement in general business conditions, Direct Relief has been reduced to a very low figure. The report of the Social Service Commission shows that persons were in receipt of such relief, as against 750 in the City of Edmonton (indigent) while the cost of Unemployment Relief in that month was only $4,520, as compared with $10,000 in the same month last year. It is likely that the numbers and cost will be increased somewhat during the winter months, but for the remainder of the war years, it is hoped that this item of civic expense will not be the large factor it has been in the past decade.

Building Permits

Building has again been active in the City during the current year, particularly in housing. The total permits issued for the nine months ended 30th September amount to $2,258,128.00, as compared with $1,900,480.00 for the same period last year. The comparison for dwellings is 456 units valued at $1,012,650 in 1941, as compared to 364 units valued at $815,485 for the same period last year. The figures are in view of the fact that no public loans are now being issued, yet while the total is comparatively large, it could be multiplied several times without reaching the saturation point, as the demand greatly exceeds the supply. The Building Inspector reports the following summarization:

Building Permits to September 30th, 1941-1941

No.	Class	Value	No.	Value
1	Public Buildings	$23,750.00	7	$40,120.00
2	Industrial Buildings	$4,000.00	8	$1,800.00
3	Apartment Buildings	$4,000.00	9	$1,800.00
4	Commercial Buildings	$1,000.00	10	$1,800.00
5	Stores	$1,000.00	11	$1,800.00
6	Dwellings (under $1,000)	$6,345.00	12	$4,000.00
13	Dwellings (over $1,000)	$1,612.00
14	Other	$2,258,128.00	1156	$1,800,000.00

The following are some of the larger permits issued during the year:

Apartment Block	$36,700.00
Canteen and Quarters at Air Training School	25,000.00
Safety Store	23,000.00
Extension to Air School	31,000.00
Extension to Garneau School	62,000.00
Extension to Manning Pool	300,000.00
Swift Canadian Co., Plant Extension	200,000.00

Military Establishments

For a long time the Administration felt that this City was not receiving its fair share of the facilities provided under the Government's Air Training Scheme, and despite numerous representations made to the authorities at Ottawa, the sending of three separate delegations, the only result was the establishment of the small schools for Elementary Flying and the arrival of a government representative last May.

As compared to upwards of 5,000 aircraft in the City of Calgary, and other large establishments in the different cities and towns in the south of the province. This was the result of the fact that the City has consistently been the way in the provision of airfield facilities, not only in Western Canada, but in the whole Dominion. However, the strenuous efforts made, and the briefs submitted, at last brought results.

After prolonged discussions it was arranged to turn over the Exhibition Grounds and Buildings for the purpose of establishing a Manning Pool, to house approximately 1,200 men. The Manning Pool is a building, subsequently been made to the buildings, at a cost to the Dominion Government of about $400,000, with the result that the original number of men has been increased to around 3,000.

It is the probability that this number will be augmented in the near future.

Arrangements were also made at the same time with the Provincial Government and the University Board for the use of the Normal School and different University buildings to accommodate an Initial Training School for 800 men, which number it is understood will shortly be doubled. To accommodate the Normal School students, the Public School board surrendered the use of the Garneau High School, which had to be enlarged to meet this emergency, at a cost of approximately $700,000.00, towards which the Federal Government contributed the sum of $400,000.00. With the full operation of the four Air Training projects in this City, there will be an establishment of at least 5,000 men, compared to the 200 to 300 men in training here six months ago.

Your Commissioners are glad to acknowledge the great assistance they have received from the Aviation Committee and the City of Edmonton in the matter of the Manning Pool. They worked unceasingly in stressing the merits and advantages of this city as a centre for air training purposes.

In addition to the above military activities, the Department of Munition and Supplies has built an aircraft repair depot immediately south of the C.N.R. Calder Yards. This plant is being operated by the Mackenzie Air Service Ltd. and at present the company has over 1,000 regular employees. The Government is now engaged in doubling the plant which means that the operating staff will be doubled as soon as the new buildings are ready. The construction of these plants has resulted in a great increase in local employment. It is anticipated that this plant will ultimately mean much more to the city than the military establishment in as much as its activities should continue after the war is over.

Safety and Health

The Medical Officer of Health reports that serious communicable diseases have been at a minimum during the year. Thirteen cases of infantile paralysis occurred in the city. Available immunization against communicable diseases has been carried on continuously. Despite wartime conditions, the Government is now engaged in doubling the plant which means that the operating staff will be doubled as soon as the new buildings are ready.

The infant and maternal death rates have again been reduced. This has coincided with increasing pre-natal and post-natal care of mothers and infants, and with the increased care at the time of confinement. Our city stands high in this respect.

Food supervision of city's water, milk and other food supplies has been maintained. Some 28,229 pounds of meats, fish and fowl were condemned on account of disease which rendered the material unfit for human food.

For some time past the Fire Commission has had the City has shown steady improvement, with a corresponding decrease in the fly nuisance. This appears to be another important factor in the reduction of infant deaths.

It is hoped that the improvement in sanitary matters has been rendered to the military forces.

While the number of fire calls answered during the period under review was considerably in excess of 1940, yet the cost of the fire loss was little more than one-third of the previous year.

Some of the city's fire equipment is getting very old although it is still in fair working condition. Partly to meet this situation, and partly to increase the fire fighting equipment in line with the large increase in property requiring protection, the City purchased one new 1,000 gal. LaFrance Pumper and one new aluminum ladder truck. For some time past the Fire Commission has had the City has shown steady improvement, with a corresponding decrease in the fly nuisance. This appears to be another important factor in the reduction of infant deaths.

The North Edmonton Fire Hall and advantage was taken of this to construct a new fire hall on the location indicated. Work on the new building is proceeding.

Police

During the latter half of 1940 there was somewhat of an epidemic of safe blowings in the City, but arrests were made and the perpetrators of these crimes are now serving penitentiary sentences. Since that time there has been a marked absence of major crime.

The intercommunication systems which consist of the supervisory signal system and the two-way radio have given excellent satisfaction and the efficiency of patrol, due to the use of the radio, has not been impaired in keeping down crime.

During the nine month period, patrolmen reported no less than 981 cases of crime, which has been a marked increase. Business men of the City must give this matter more care.

The present condition of the City in so far as vice is concerned is about as it has in the past. This is due to the great measure to the work of the Morality Squad.

There has been the best of co-operation between the Department and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Such co-operation has continued and the City has continued to law and order within the City and in keeping down crime.

Utilities

The Utilities in common with other industrial concerns throughout the country are now feeling the effect of increasing cost of raw material and it is becoming increasingly difficult for them to maintain their total contributions towards the relief of taxation. This can only be done by continued increases in business. The Utilities are also feeling the effect of the increase in the cost of raw material necessary for upkeep and extensions, but orders are being placed in many cases over a year in advance in an effort to maintain public service.

Under the use of their Renewals' Funds, the Utilities have been modernized and extended to meet the growing needs of the community without reducing the annual returns to the city exchequer from this source. All the Renewals' Funds of the different Utilities are now in the custody of the Sinking Fund Board, instead of being merely "on paper" as in the past. The expenditures from the Renewals' Funds during the first nine months of this year have been as under:

Electric Light	$23,813.82
Power House	27,297.73
Street Railway	25,000.00
Telephone	67,691.85
Waterworks	76,620.05

$474,568.73

and the amount of cash remaining to the credit of these accounts at 30th September was $547,226.11.

Power Plant

The increase in energy sold in the first nine months of this year is 6.8% as against an increase of 8.92% for the similar period in 1940.

The Department has generally maintained the same surplus payments to the City as in 1940, but has increased the reserves set aside for plant extension and plant renewals from $116,000.00 to $150,000.00 over the same period.

During September, the new 15,000 K.W. turbo-generator was opened up for inspection and found to be in first class condition.

Work on the new plant extension was commenced in April, and to date, the boiler is 40% erected and the brick structure and east walls of new building about 85% completed.

The Power Interchange with Calgary Power Company, which went into effect September, 1940, has proven quite satisfactory. The interchange has been a great success, and new extension, we were unable to utilize the high pressure boilers for the purpose of operating the low pressure turbines.

Electric Light and Power Distribution

For the nine months under review sale of current has increased from 38,356,184 K.W.H. to 41,759,762 and there is every indication that this rate of increase will be maintained until the end of the year.

Approximately 10 miles of pole line, aerial wire and fittings have been added to the system, and intensified lighting has been installed on 103rd Street for two blocks north of Jasper Avenue. This class of lighting is a great improvement and is installed on petition of the property owners who are assessed for the major portion of the cost.

Considerable work has also been done at the Air Observer's School at the Aircraft Repair Shop and at No. 8 Manning Road.

A severe electrical storm occurred on June 23rd and did damage both at the Power Plant and in the distribution system. Service was restored with a minimum of delay.

Street Railway

Passenger traffic continues to show gains. Passengers carried during the nine months period reached a total of 12,226,362, as compared with 11,549,562 for the corresponding period last year. In order to cope with the increase in traffic, and to maintain operating schedules two new 30-passenger Diesel buses were obtained and placed in service early in the year and another similar bus has recently been ordered for immediate delivery. The restrictions on the sale of cars and gasoline is likely to tax the capacity of our equipment this winter, and particular attention has been given to the over-haul of all available rolling stock.

One of the old trolley cars which has been out of service for a number of years was rebuilt for the Edmonton Public Library Board to give library service to some of the outlying districts.

Telephone Department

The total number of telephones in service on September 30th was 20,763 which is an increase of 1,339 over the corresponding period of last year. This increase in services was greater than any year since 1913 and applications for new services shows no sign of abating.

A 300 line addition to the Central Office equipment was installed in the South office and a similar 300 line addition was installed in the North office during the year. These lines were rapidly called into use because of the sustained demand for services and as a consequence further orders have been placed for additional apparatus.

It may be recalled that although delayed, Britain again has been able to "deliver the goods" in the matter of large quantities of telephone equipment.

Waterworks

The following are a few comparisons for the first nine months of 1941 against the same period in 1940:

Cash revenue	... .. up 6½% over last year
Total expenditure	... .. up 6% "
Water sold	... .. up 8% "
Number of new services constructed	... .. up 22% "

New construction paid out of current account, largely for the purpose of new service installation, is considerably ahead of last year, but new construction for the Dominion Government and for war purposes has not been as extensive as last year.

Replacements of steel, wood and galvanized iron mains, together with the renewal of old type fire hydrants, has been about on the same basis as for several years past.

The shortage of metals for various pipe requirements is becoming quite acute, and it is necessary, in the near future, to curtail some of the work.

Engineering Department

The appropriation for this Department for the year is practically the same as for last year but it has been necessary to curtail the service rendered to some extent. This is due to the increase in cost of materials, and it has been necessary to hire paid labor for much work that has been done by relief labor for a number of years. During the first nine months of 1941, 117,750 man hours of relief labor were used but for the same period this year only 32,942 hours were used. Since July 26th no relief labor has been used.

Work has been started and will continue throughout the winter on the construction of a tunnel sewer and laterals that will permit dismantling the pump works at 103rd Street and 76th Avenue. This will remove the danger of flooding in the McKernan Lake and 105th Street (Rupert Street) Districts.

This year the oiling program on main gravelled streets was continued and the City has continued to make arrangements for oiling on secondary and residential gravel roads was instituted. This policy has been very beneficial in abating the dust nuisance.

The cost of scavenging service is rising considerably which can be attributed to such factors as increased quantities of garbage due to growth of the population, the difficulty of finding suitable short haul dumps, the expense of covering loads with straw, and the expense of hauling the material.

The Department of National Defence leased the Exhibition Grounds and Arena for use as a training depot for the R.C.A.P. and the Department has done a considerable amount of work there on Government property.

At the airport purchase of 80 acres additional land required for the extension of runways at the North end of the field was negotiated with the C.N.R.

At present time plans are being prepared for an Administration building which will be erected at the airport as early as possible.

The Aircraft Repair and Assembly Plant, located on the airfield, is being enlarged by the Dominion Government and utility extensions required have been made.

The gravel pit was operated during the summer and approximately 35,000 cubic yards were produced.

A construction program for approximately $167,300.00 has been carried out this year. This work has been completed with the exception of the relief sewer extension to McKernan Lake and 105th Street districts which is now under construction.

The following is a summary of the expenditures:

Sidewalks and crossings	$34,500.00
Grading, graveling, boulevarding	30,000.00
Paving	33,500.00
Sewers and drainage	12,500.00
Parks (Civic Centre)	2,800.00
Miscellaneous Improvements	5,000.00
	$187,300.00

Under the heading of walks approximately $6,500.00 was spent on replacement of old concrete walks in the centre of the City.

Under the heading of paving some additional surfacing of gravel roads with Plant Mix Asphalt was done on 91st Street from 52nd Avenue to 181st Avenue and on 96th Avenue from 110th Street to 112th Street. This work is being watched very carefully in order that the Department will be in a position to make recommendations as to future policy in regard to this type of surface.

It is to be expected that the use of public works will be very much curtailed during War time.

EDMONTON'S answer is a BOMBER a MONTH in the fight for FREEDOM!

YOUR sons have gone and are going daily to fight on the seas - on land and in the air in this titanic struggle for freedom . . . . Edmonton's own boys - daring to make the supreme sacrifice for us. Are we who stay at home doing ALL we can to back them up? One thing we can all do is SAVE and BUY more War Savings Certificates, remembering that while they fight we are only asked to LEND our dollars.

Edmonton's commitment in Canada's War Weapons Drive is "A Bomber a Month". This challenge demands of every citizen a reduction in personal spending—stern self-denial . . . to SAVE and stake every dollar we can in Freedom's cause.

Too Democratic—Not Enough

Speaking at Toronto, the Conservative house leader complained that Prime Minister King "ignores parliament" and is acting like a dictator because he is introducing the price-wage control system by order-in-council—which he is doing, and is only able to do, because parliament gave him the authority.

It is only a few weeks more than two years since Mr. King was being censured by Mr. Hanson's police because he refused to commit Canada to war until parliament authorized him to do so. Now the complaint is that he does not now have the necessary support in developing the nation's war effort until parliament has debated the subject in detail. While it is reasonable to expect that the establishment of any sort of control for a month, or two or three months, while prices rise with gathering speed and resultant wage disputes tied up industries.

Mr. Hanson, of course, would not want these things to happen, but they have happened just the same. If control is needed now, not sometime after inflation has further complicated the situation and cost the country more reduced production, the government should use the method of dealing with important questions is not democratic, but neither is it, and the economic situation the dictators have waited will not wait for the slow processes of pacetime.

On The Agenda

Parliament is to meet on Monday. As the session was adjourned, not prolonged, there will be no formal opening ceremonies and the members will take on where they left off. This may not mean that the meeting will be either short or unimportant. The new session will not open until after New Year's. There will be six or seven weeks thereafter in which to deal with matters relating to the present year, before the Christmas recess.

Since adjournment the Prime Minister, several of his colleagues, the Leader of the Opposition, and a number of private members have been in Britain. Their reports should be valuable as providing a background for the study of future policies and projects. The conscription act has been thrust into public attention, and needs fact examination, which it has not yet received and will not receive except in parliamentary debate.

The western crops have been disappointing, and "dollar wheat" is somewhat widely suggested as a remedy for the resulting situation. This also needs consideration, which can better be given now than three or four months hence. The progress to date of the government's expanding the war effort should be made public, in so far as military security does not forbid.

These are all matters which pertain to the current calendar year. If they are dealt with now, the session to open in January or February will be able to devote to constructive programs for the 1942-43 fiscal period. It will be to the public advantage if the state is cleared of this year's problem before parliament begins.

A Hunt For Markets

The mission headed by Hon. James A. MacKinnon has returned from South America, after spending several weeks there in the interests of increased trade. Most favored nation agreements were made with Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Peru, and Canadian legations are being established in the latter three of some of these states. The mission met with a cordial reception everywhere, and sees a prospect that a considerably broader market can be found for Canadian goods in the southern continent for Canadian goods—particularly manufactured goods since these comprise the bulk of imports there.

Canada's trade with the Latin republics has never been extensive and there are limits to what can be done for in that direction. But when Nazi Germany and Italy decided to abandon the field of commerce for that of war they sacrificed an export trade to these countries running to hundreds of millions of dollars per year. The United States promptly stepped in to fill the gap, and will probably capture the lion's share. But Canadian purchases in the republics have gone up somewhat sharply since the war began, and a marked advance in sales. Since we are buying there more heavily it is desirable, and should be possible, to enlarge sales in proportion.

This was the particular object of the mission. While the results will only be known when the figures for the year or so hence, the welcome extended and the agreements made promise a bigger and better-balanced exchange with the countries of the south. The trade contains the bulk of the population and three-quarters of the area of South America, and represents a still higher proportion of its foreign trade.

The Nineteenth Week

While winter came to the Leningrad area, the in-between season has prevailed in the rest of the world. As a result of this Berlin, which a week ago was boasting that Moscow could be taken in short order, has been explaining that the roads were so muddy its tanks and trucks could make little headway. There does not seem, however, to have been any explanation why the little advance was being made toward Leningrad, where the ground was frozen hard and the snow not deep enough to block the tanks.

The fact probably is that the Nazi high command has had to shift both men and machines from these northern sectors to give weight to their main attack in the south. It is there the enemy has made progress and the Russians suffered set-back. Kharkov has fallen, but the Russian authorities say it is not yet taken. The prize of little worth to the Nazis, because both stores and factories had been removed to interior points. To do this, the withdrawal must have been orderly and planned well in advance, in which case the Russian forces may have suffered only moderate losses, while it is claimed the attackers lost 120,000 men in taking the empty city.

While Kharkov was important if it could be gained without destruction of its industrial equipment, it was not even more important, and that is supposed to be the real objective of the southern drive, was the position on the pipeline from the Caucasus through which the Russian forces to the north obtain their oil supply, and the city and region recently were not invaded until Rostov was captured. It has not been captured yet.

The Crimea has been the bad spot from the Russian point of view, but the Crimea is a peninsula—which it may be easier for the enemy to get into than out of.

The week's losses close without a major Nazi gain on the only sector where there has been any gain at all. An oil refinery is to be established at Vermilion, to treat the output of wells in that vicinity. There are reported to be a dozen productive wells there, and some of them gushers which had to be capped to prevent loss of oil. The new drilling. The proposed refinery is rated at 1,000 barrels per day, and the output will be moderate. It will be the entire possible production to be used as fuel by the railways. Turner Valley may thus soon have a rival, and Alberta another large oil-producing field.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1891-50 Years Ago

Rev. John McDougall of Morley arrived from the south on Tuesday. The Canadian Pacific Railway had a hostile meeting and one Indian in all probability way his way to the happy hunting grounds. The Indians were on the police, on patrol. Constables Alexander and McLean were sent to the police, where they were loaded with meat which they killed. Alexander called to the Indians in his Indian language, and the Indians were loaded with meat which they killed. Alexander called to the Indians in his Indian language, and the Indians were loaded with meat which they killed.

1901-40 Years Ago

General Buller threatened to blow into the air the big gun which was to be used in the court privacy or discontinuance demonstration. He attended a theatre in London last evening and when returning to his hotel he was mobbed by cheering crowds. The police had to be called to clear the streets.

1911-30 Years Ago

Peking Yuan Shi Kai has been appointed premier of China and will organize a cabinet. Chicago: Referring to the prosecution of the U.S. Steel Trust, President Taft in a speech here said the administration will deal with a condition of business lawlessness. The Strathcona city council decided that Whyte avenue will not be paved this fall.

1921-20 Years Ago

Ottawa: Lady Laurier, widow of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, died at her home here. Hon. George Mackenzie, who had been treated his cabinet colleagues to a banquet of horse steak, as a means of popularizing the use of certain types of horses, died at his home here.

1931-10 Years Ago

Chicago: Wheat prices moved upward in all continental markets following reports that a wheat shortage in Europe was being increased demands for Canadian and United States wheat. London: Nearly $15,000,000 in bar gold, worth $75,000,000 at the normal rate of exchange, was withdrawn from the Bank of England—the largest total ever in a single day. The gold goes to pay 15 per cent of the $250,000,000 loan made to Britain in August by bankers in New York.

What Was Once Hope of Man-kind Is Now Forgotten and Almost Disbanded

By HAROLD L. WEIR

There is a ghost that haunts on silent feet through every capital of Europe. It is a futile ghost, because it died alone and almost forgotten. But it is a ghost that has been almost disbanded the respect and inspired the hopes of all the world, and even yet, while men speak of it with a sneer, they look over their shoulders as they sneer.

This ghost was once divine. It summoned the nations of the earth to appear before it, and they came. It spoke with the voice of prophecy, and nations listened.

Latin American Conga Line

By HAROLD L. WEIR

There is a ghost that haunts on silent feet through every capital of Europe. It is a futile ghost, because it died alone and almost forgotten. But it is a ghost that has been almost disbanded the respect and inspired the hopes of all the world, and even yet, while men speak of it with a sneer, they look over their shoulders as they sneer.

This ghost was once divine. It summoned the nations of the earth to appear before it, and they came. It spoke with the voice of prophecy, and nations listened.

Crown Counsel Opens Reply In Tobacco Case

Control for 35 tobacco manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers appealing against constitution and fines imposed on six charges under the Combines Investigation act, completed their argument before the Alberta court of appeal Friday morning, and J. C. McKee, K.C., chief crown counsel opened his reply.

Prior to Mr. McKee addressing the court, Chief Justice Horne

Harvey indicated that crown counsel need not address himself to the appeals' submission on the question of the irregularity of the jury array, nor were they convinced that their plea of abetment was correct. The court was not convinced that the counsel had not the right to address the jury in an endeavor to obtain from it a verdict contrary to

Indians Not Barred From Normal School

There is nothing whatever in present Indians who have passed the required examinations from attending Normal school, Dr. G.

McNally, deputy minister of education stated.

The information was given when

Dr. McNally was asked to consider the case of Josephine Paskayak, a full-blooded Indian girl, who had applied for entrance to the Normal school and failed to register.

Apparently the St. Paul Junior

Chamber of Commerce had communicated with the provincial and dominion governments in regard to permitting Miss Paskayak to attend on the strength of a scholarship entitled to her, they claimed, for obtaining the highest marks of any Grade 12 student in the province.

Dr. McNally stated that her request did not entitle her to the scholarship but that there were no regulations to prevent her from attending Normal, provided her education could be financed privately.

college for Chinese maintained by

Youth Parade

By Bert Nightingale Jr.

Editor Bulletin Youth Page

Surrounded by a maze of ticker tape, blackboards and figures of every description are a couple of young men about town who, day in and day out are one of the more business of reading, writing and tabulating.

They are Ken Kuen and Ray Corish, board members extraordinary at the Junior League's annual Christmas tree exchange.

Every day from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. under bright lights and on a raised platform, they stand before the eyes of the thousands of members, followers of the latest deceptions of Chicago, what, Winnipeg, Toronto, and Vancouver stocks.

There are times when everything around them assumes the madness of newsmen just before the deadline. With the coming of their deadline, when markets begin to "relax" and the last prices come in over the ticker tape, Ken and Ray's work is like playing to keep the audience under control. How they keep cool is something to wonder at.

Nevertheless, neither of them ever appears flustered, and on a raised platform, they stand before the eyes of the thousands of members, followers of the latest deceptions of Chicago, what, Winnipeg, Toronto, and Vancouver stocks.

It is an education to be able to translate as they do such signs as "WZ 3615" into the latest quoted value of December wheat in the east.

The men who compose their audience probably have some pretty wonderful stories behind them. So, each day are seen old-timers from marvellously quiet sections of the province, who in town for the day, seldom fail to make the "train exchange" one of the visiting points.

Some days find men from all walks of life seated about the different blackboards. All of them become brothers in the interest of finance.

Officers Elected
McALEY INTERMEDIATE

Stanley Vanderburgh has been elected president of the McALEY intermediate school's Students' Union. Other officers are Arthur Lacombe, vice-president; Jack MacLean, secretary; room representative; Margaret MacLean, treasurer; Clannadon, George Schmidt, Tommy Johnson, Percy Gault, John Harrison, Alan Boyd, Fred Laidlaw, Stuart Thomas, Audrey Turill, Stewart Brady and Gloria Marchand.

Plans For Dance
Are Going Ahead

Plans for the Robertson Youth Centre Young People's Society are progressing "merrily" according to Ralph Leard, president. Tickets are going well, and it is expected that a capacity crowd will be in attendance. The dance will be held on 2 p.m. in the Masonic Temple at 1000 10th St. N.W.

At a recent meeting, "Fashion Unlimited" were presented by six male members charmingly attired in formal evening dress. The men raised gales of laughter as they portrayed 24 hours in the dressing-room of a young lady.

Interesting people do interesting things. Take Keith Kuen, president of the Students' Union at Strathcona high school.

Now 18 years of age and in his last year of high school, he went to "Westward Ho" for grades one to eight; spent a year at King Edward in grade nine and is finishing up at Strathcona.

There are few sports he isn't interested in. He plays hockey, basketball, football, tennis, badminton, and enjoys swimming. Last year he played hockey with the Canadians (Midgets) and hopes to make the Juniors this year. He plays basketball with the Strathcona team and is a quarterback with the Strathcona Fiddlers.

Hockey is his favorite sport, and he is looking forward to the cold weather so that he can play hockey and get to work.

He is a little undecided as to his career. He hopes to go to university when he leaves high school, and doesn't know where to go on from there.

Strathcona National Park, during 1940, had 28,138 visitors, in 64,948 private automobiles.

South American military leaders are enjoying a dominant position in the political life of their country. Many ranking soldiers are also high government officials.

Bolivia has had many ill-fated attempts to overthrow the government. One of the most ill-fated attempts, however, El Comandante, was twice an unsuccessful candidate for the country's highest office.

Camacho, who was honored in the 1936 stamp issue, was a distinguished general. Born Nov. 14, 1881, in Lima, he interrupted his legal studies at the University of Lima in 1907 to join the Linares revolution.

He proved to be an outstanding political man, and after moving through the ranks became a member of the cabinet. When the latter was overthrown, Camacho was forced into exile, but three years later he returned to lead the Bolivian army in the war against Paraguay.

Leader of the liberal party, he was defeated as candidate for president in 1936 and 1938. He died Nov. 13, 1940.

Officer Tells Club Of Changes Made At Grounds To Accommodate Airmen

Facilities for newly-enlisted airmen at the Edmonton exhibition grounds are the finest in Canada, Wing Commander J. C. Malone, K.C., commanding officer at No. 3 Manning Depot, R.C.A.F., told members of the Edmonton Kinmen Club at the club's regular dinner meeting at the Macdonald hotel Friday.

New Municipal Plan Prepared By Government

ministrators. Each municipality maintains a separate office together with the necessary equipment to operate same. The majority of the 15 municipal districts administered by council, have six councillors.

Statistics show that in 1940, the 1931 census figures were used to determine a separate office together with the necessary equipment to operate same. The majority of the 15 municipal districts administered by council, have six councillors.

CERAMIC OUTLAY

It is shown that although secretary-treasurers duties have greatly increased, there is a reported reduction in average salary from about $1,600 in 1930 to $1,400 in 1940. In 1940 the total paid out on account of secretarial services was $12,541.

The summary states that many municipal districts reportedly own large tractors, graders and other machinery which they cannot operate economically, due to lack of resources, after the municipality has taken care of the many demands for social services.

While this fact is generally admitted, it did not prevent 40 municipal districts from purchasing road machinery in 1935, amounting to $206,566 and 15 municipal districts in 1940 expending for the same purpose $186,711.

Claims are made that although some provincial municipalities are functioning satisfactorily under the existing system, there are many disadvantages encountered.

It is claimed in the summary that "Experience shows that it is extremely difficult to secure a properly evaluated value of the rural areas of the province under the present system." Continuing, it states that "The enlarged unit is simply an enlarged unit of the present system, formed by the merging of two or more of the present municipal and improvement districts. Where possible, districts will be merged in their entirety, though in some cases they may be necessary to combine districts." The enlarged unit "will vary in size according to the needs of the country and its state of development."

TAXPAYER WILL BENEFIT

Through this proposed plan, it is said the taxpayer will benefit through the merging of several small units, which will result in duplication of personnel effort and expense, resulting in reduced administration costs. The consolidation of the rural government units would effect a broadening of the base of taxation and equating the tax burdens between various areas. Also, the cost of government would be distributed over wider areas and among more people.

Roads, instead of being located to serve some small area, will be located with the broader outlet to co-ordinating with adjoining areas and with the provincial scheme of highways," states the summary.

Continuing it is stated that "Although legislation made provision for municipalities to come to an understanding with each other, no advantage appears to have been taken of it nor has there been any voluntary co-ordinating of any part of the work, with a view to reducing the general overhead for any purpose as between any two or more municipal districts. There are practically no changes required in legislation as it is the intention to work under the present act and such changes as may be necessary, will be those required for the purpose of taking care of any difficulties that might arise during the transition period."

ARMIES AND LIABILITIES

"Possibly some legislation may be required to deal with the question of adjusting assets and liabilities where the boundaries of any unit are split. As it stands, legislation will not be necessary, where present units merge into the enlarged units because brought within the bounds of such enlarged unit. The proposal is to have the municipal inspector for the territory concerned deal with the question of adjusting assets and liabilities, and should any difficulty arise in this connection, arrangements will be made for a reference to some board such as the Alberta Assessment Commission."

"It is the intention to set up as a preliminary at least two of the proposed areas and from these no doubt valuable information will be derived which will be useful

Addresses Club

Wing Commander J. C. Malone, K.C., officer commanding No. 3 Manning Depot at the exhibition grounds, who told the Kinmen Club here Friday that the depot was the finest in Canada.

The depot was a solid floor and is used for a recreational centre and for lectures. Five lectures going on at the same time is not an unusual daily occurrence in the old hockey palace, the speaker said.

Invitation to Kinmen to dine with the boys was extended by the depot.

The officer made a plea for a greater war consciousness in the depot, stating that it was a battle for freedom that simply must be won by a single man, woman or child.

Chairman H. Rogers acknowledged a donation of $50 to the club's milk fund for purchase of milk for bombed British children from the U.S. Navy Club, a club of business executives in the city.

Getting Around Around

popularly known as "Tommy Atkins. Kipling wrote feelingly of him. One of the most popular of army songs is named in his honor. In fact, every private soldier in the British Army has Tommy Atkins. On frequent occasions, Lt. Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., Area Commander and others, are asked how the name came to be applied to the British soldiers. I don't know that the question ever has been asked on an army examination paper, but in case it, prospective candidates for promotion, as well as others interested, may as well know.

Back in August 13, 1815, the War Office issued a collection of Orders, Regulations, etc. The name Thomas Atkins was employed as a specimen name in one official regulation, as follows:

Description, service, etc. of Thomas Atkins, private No. 6 Troop 6th Regt. Dragons. Where born, etc. Pariah of Odisha, India. Bound by the name of Thomas Atkins. His X mark. Clothing account of Thomas Atkins, etc. Thomas Atkins has been a well conditioned soldier; was wounded at — and was distinguished for promotion by general acts of bravery. Signed —, Commanding Officer.

One of Edmundson's "grand old stories," a practical joke, the commander, planner, and trail-blazer with best of them, is still alive, vigorous and possessed of a keen sense of humor, despite advanced years. It seems that one of her most popular diversion is reading the obituary notices in this newspaper. Recently, her daughter rubbed her for what she described as "her morbid habit" of "voluntarily" defending herself from what she considered an unjustified accusation, the elderly lady replied, "I just want to see what she's still alive."

These days, it is a popular diversion to write war songs. In quantity, if not the quality, the set of the present conflict has exceeded that of the Great War of 1914-1918. Now that humankind's dream is a live issue and Canada is joining with other countries in this activity, here is a ditty on the subject: There's nothing else to do, We're in the same canoe, So here's my hand to you For weal or woe, Now let us give a cheer For our own hemisphere, And none of us need fear A foreign foe.

for the guidance of the rest of the province. For electoral purposes, a unit may be divided into, say, from three to eight wards, from each of which one councillor will be elected."

As an example of the saving reportedly brought about by this system, three specified small units, in 1940 had a total administration cost of $11,423. If operated as a larger unit would have been $2,500, or a saving of $12,423.

RENEWED STUDY GIVEN

The municipal affairs department has been surveying the latter unit system since 1931, in which year the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts passed a resolution advocating establishment of the "county system" in this province. The next year, the same organization in convention, rejected a proposed plan. Following establishment of the larger school unit system here in 1937, renewed study was given to the idea.

Elimination Of City Tag Days Will Be Sought

Opinion was expressed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Edmonton Convention Chest in the Macdonald hotel Friday, that all organizations still eligible for tag days should eventually affiliate with the chest.

A committee of two was appointed to represent the board on the tag day committee made up of representatives from the Board of Social Agencies, the city council and the chest. R. V. MacCoshan and Oliver McIntyre were appointed with instructions to work towards "tag tag days" at the earliest possible date.

The board decided to place the surplus, that was over-subscribed during the community chest campaign, as a reserve fund to be applied on the next year's requisition.

MANAGEMENT STAFF

Much of the business connected with the campaign was wound up and plans were laid for the management of chest affairs during the year. Mrs. M. Moore was recommended for full time secretary of the Community Chest and J. G. Nickerson, will continue as treasurer.

Chapman was appointed secretary of the board of directors. Board members present were: H. H. McKenney.

Capacity House Welcomes Negro Singer To City

First Baptist church was crowded to the limit of its capacity Friday evening when Kenneth Spencer, Negro bass, appeared in recital, under the auspices of the Negro Association of the church. That a great audience turned out to greet him, was a striking testimonial to Mr. Spencer's popularity. Only recently was it made known that he would give another concert in this city. The excellent impression created on earlier visits remained and the faithful turned out to give him a rousing welcome.

His program was comprehensive and varied, including works by Handel, Purcell, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, John Ireland, Gustav Mahler and others, not getting a group of Negro spirituals. Mr. Spencer sang with his piano accompaniment, while the piano accompaniment was given by Mrs. H. E. Pascoe.

VARIETY GROUP

His next group included Tchaikovsky's "A Legend," John Ireland's "Sea Fever," Corelli's "The Hunger Song" and the old English "O No John," arranged by Cecil

Grants To Assist Post-War Studies

A plan for the reestablishment of University students whose studies and post-graduate work have been interrupted by their military service in Empire forces is being worked out by Canadian university and government heads. Dr. Robert Newton, acting president of the University of Alberta, said Saturday.

A committee comprising Dean G. M. Smith, Dean R. S. Wilson and Chairman Dr. R. D. Sinclair, all of Edmonton, has been organized to study the matter here.

The plan calls for an allowance of $5 per week for each student wishing to continue his studies after the war, with the same amount applying for post-graduate work. The allowance will be made only if a satisfactory educational standard is maintained.

You may submit as many "Believe It Or Not" as you wish. You don't have to submit any drawings or sketches—each entry must contain the explanation or proof of its truth. Just tell us in your own words some truth that is stranger than fiction.

Everyone has a chance to win, for every one knows one or more "Believe It Or Not" facts. Your first thought may be that it takes foreign travel or unusual experience to produce them. It is true that Ripley has visited in more than 178 countries for material, but he has found his most successful material right at home.

Follow These Simple Rules...

- 1—You may submit as many Believe It Or Not as you wish. You do not have to submit any drawings or sketches. Write legibly on one side of the paper only and be sure to have your name and address on each sheet if you send in more than one. Each entry must contain the explanation or proof of the truth. The Edmonton Bulletin will not be responsible for the return of the entries.
- 2—Contributions will be judged daily and accepted stories will be reproduced in the daily paper and contributors of each accepted story will receive $1.00 each.
- 3—The contestants agree to accept the judgment of The Edmonton Bulletin in the awarding of the daily prizes as final.
- 4—You do not have to buy The Edmonton Bulletin to compete in this contest. Daily newspaper files of the paper may be found at The Bulletin building on Jasper Avenue.

The Contest Will Run for a Period of 4 Weeks

This contest will run for a period of four weeks. Each day we will reproduce in the paper one or more of the best "Believe It Or Not" stories received that day. For each story that is run the contributor will receive $1.00. At the end of the four-week period all these stories that have appeared in the paper will be carefully judged. There will be a prize of $15.00 for the best, $10.00 for the second best and $5.00 for the third best.

First Pictures Of Britain's Tough 'Commandos' As They Train In Invasion Tactics

These tough, rough and ready troops of Britain's spectacular new army unit, the "Commandos," rush up a steep and brushy coastline after landing in a preview of continental invasion. Especially trained in modern guerrilla warfare, these picked men would be the advance striking force of any attempt to create a new western front.

Guerrilla fighting means making the most of what you can get your hands on, so the "Commandos" get intensive, varied training. At left, they are taught to dress wild game, which might be their only food.

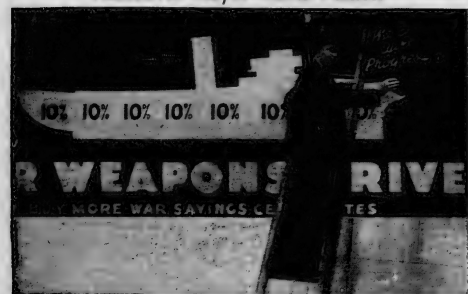

In training with Britain's new army unit, member of the "commandos" learns how to construct bivouacs out of branches of trees. Men chosen for this branch of service must be of high physical fitness and intelligence and undergo intense training.

Vancouver Mayor Turns Painter

In the city of Vancouver in British Columbia, where the War Weapons drive objective is $60,000 or enough to provide one Corvette each month, campaign progress was shown on a huge outdoor sign. Mayor J. W. Cornett, whose name almost becomes Corvette, with the changing of one letter and the addition of another, used the brush and paint himself to depict the response of Vancouver citizens to the appeal during the first week.

Keynote of the conference was sounded by Chairman Carter Goodrich, who pledged that workers and employers of the world would be in the forefront of the fight to "rebuild the democratic world."

RUSSIA'S HOT CORNER

German troops continue their costly assault in the region north of the Black Sea, current "hot corner" of Russia.

That the Nazi generals continue to detach men from the embattled forces before Moscow to send against the Crimea, is proof of its importance. That they consider imperative the seizure of Rostov as a base for winter Caucasian operations grows increasingly apparent.

The Crimea, heavily fortified appendix dangling into the sea, is a vital cog in Nazi plans for two reasons. First, if captured, it opens the way for the now-familiar pincer operation, this time directed against the Caucasus. Second, the great Russian base at Sevastopol dominates Black Sea trade lanes and must be eliminated before Germany could cash in on its contemplated capture of the Caucasus.

There are only two land approaches to the Crimea—the Perekop isthmus, little less than a mile wide, and a neck of land and swamp, some narrower, across which the rail line runs.

amashed almost due south from Berislav, and found in the Perekop isthmus what they knew was there—the heaviest fortifications Russian military engineers could devise. Forced to a narrow front, they have been grimly smashing at those barricades ever since.

If the Nazis breach the Russian defences, a natural line of advance eastward would fit into any plan for attack on Caucasian oilfields. The narrow channel at Kerch bars the way, but achieving a crossing there would be no more difficult than crossing the broad lower Dnieper.

Once across the Kerch channel, German forces would have a choice of several routes. They could swing north to become the southern jaw of pincers converging on Rostov. They could swing south along the Caucasian coast.

The Crimea therefore is essential to a successful foray on the Caucasian oilfields, obvious goal of Hitler's winter campaign if he is to continue the pace of his present fuel-burning operations.

Further, if the Caucasus falls, the Nazis must reduce Sevastopol to impotence, or they cannot exploit oil on oil-sewers. The land route north, around the Black Sea to Novorossiysk, too valuable to transport the quantities of petroleum the Nazis need. They must have a few solid open tanker route the length of the Black Sea, and that means Sevastopol eliminated.

The whine of the Stukas over Rostov, meanwhile, brings the war startlingly close to the mountainous, 100-mile-wide isthmus between the Black and Caspian.

Through Rostov runs the more northern of the two long oil pipelines crossing from sea to sea. High on the banks of the Don at the end of the Sea of Azov, it also is a vitally important rail junction—true gateway to the Caucasus. This city of a half million possesses nearly every requisite as base for a winter thrust to the south.

Southwest of Rostov lies the first of the fabulous, much-publicized oilfields. First major city in the path of a West thrust toward their midst would be Krasnodar, riding centre and a goal more promising in immediate return than Rostov itself.

Behind the Don, natural Caucasian defence line, Russia may be expected to make one of its greatest stands of the war, comparable perhaps to that before Moscow. British-American supplies, trickling up from the south via the Trans-Caucasian railway, will help bolster this defence. If Russia is to have a Geylshausen it may well be here.
